The Johnson family is your average family. Cole loves to play baseball and Bella loves her pet cat, Valentine. The April 27 tornado came through and made lots of terrible damage. Will the family survive? Read to find out if they will be okay or not.

"The house began to shake. Mom's face turned red with worry. Suddenly, they heard more windows burst. Cole noticed the carpet lifting up. This really confused Cole and concerned him. Wind was spinning throughout the house at what seemed like the speed of light. Mom heard the roar get louder and deeper. Bella heard thumps from outside. The family heard a gurgle, gurgle sound coming from overhead. It was water getting sucked from the pipes. The house was vibrating like an earthquake. Cole felt like his head was going to pop."
