

EBSCO's Student Research Center is designed for 6th grade through high school students. The graphic interface allows for several search and browse options.

The basic search:

Enter search terms into the "Find" box.

Select the source types you want included in your search. Make sure a check is in every box of the sources you want searched.

The basic search includes limiters such as full text, publication date and Lexile reading levels. Click the "search" button. You will be taken to a results list.

Results for election process and Automatically "And" search terms
Multiple search terms were combined using AND.

Filter results by selecting a source type such as "newspapers"

View results by clicking on the title. Click on the "Add" button to move results to your folder.

Like other EBSCO databases, individuals may set up personal folders to access information saved during previous searches. Click “sign in” at the top of the screen. Information in folders can be reviewed at a later time, emailed, saved or printed.
